

I AM A TEACHER OF SCRIPTURE
By Moreh Robert B. Holman, Jr.

I study Scripture and research it historically, scientifically, and spiritually for an understanding and truth. I love life and living, having fun, playing golf, and being with family and friends. Scripture says, "but if in this life only we have hope we are of all men most miserable." I also know that one day, it will all end. Scripture says it is appointed unto man to die. For me, being physically dead does not constitute an end but the continuation of the existence of life through the soul as it awaits final judgment. The only way and time I can prepare for it is now.

For people who live in uncertainty as to whether there is life after death and or don't care, it's like buying a house without having fire insurance or a car without insurance. We have insurance in speculation of what might happen: the unknown. By Scripture, I am sure that there is life after death. So, I'm doing all I can to get it right and ensure my calling and election. One thing is sure: if the house burns down or the car suffers from being totaled without insurance, all you can say is that I wish I had had insurance. The problem with physical death is that after it happens, there is nothing to say and no one to call to fix it. So, I'm preparing and planning for my eternal future and having fun doing it. There is a truth for this generation, but only a few will find it. "Many are called, but few are chosen." The point is to be in the few that are chosen. "Truth!"
